Experience A whale saved me from a shark attack

By Catherine Hopkins

When I was 11, I was on a boat with my family in the North Sea. We were out for a day trip, and I was sitting on the deck. Suddenly, a shark appeared. It was a large, dark shape in the water, and I was terrified. My family tried to pull me away, but I was stuck. Then, a whale surfaced nearby. The whale's presence seemed to calm the shark, and it disappeared. I was saved.

The whale was my saviour

...the shark was a great white shark, and it was about 10 metres long. I was in the water for about 10 minutes before the whale surfaced. The whale's presence seemed to calm the shark, and it disappeared. I was saved.
